Contributed by Administrator

CKYH Alliance (COSCON, &ldquo;K&rdquo;LINE, YANG MING and HANJIN SHIPPING) has announced today the modification of its Asia-U.S. West Coast services, PSW (Pacific South West) and PNW (Pacific North West), effective from the end of June.

The Alliance has decided to integrate the existing YPS (PSW2), CUX (PSW4), and CWS (PSW5) into two services considering the destinations. Also, it will re-arrange the calling ports of YPN (YANG MING- Pacific North West) and link KPN (&ldquo;K&rdquo;LINE &ndash; Pacific North West) with JES (AES-2) in order to provide a Pendulum service covering North America and Europe.

CKYH Alliance comments that the rationalization of its current Asia-U.S. West Coast services will upgrade customer service with improved schedule and reduced transport time between China and U.S. West Coast.

Separate from above service rationalization, CKYH Alliance adds that it will further discuss and study the Trans-Pacific services and set up a series of strategies for better service quality in order to satisfy customers&rsquo; needs.
