

OOCL Announces the Opening of Da Nang Office in Vietnam

Contributed by Administrator

OOCL is pleased to announce the establishment of our Da Nang branch office, based in the city of Da Nang in central Vietnam, on May 1, 2008.

The opening marks an important milestone for OOCL Vietnam (OVCL), and the establishment of the new office will help to further develop the Vietnam market, enhance our network and provide OOCL's Vietnam customers with a Vital Link to world trade.

The Da Nang branch office will cater to the diverse needs of domestic and international businesses, offering exceptional logistics and international maritime transportation services, and further strengthening OOCL's position in the central Vietnam market.

"The opening of the office is part of our strategic plan for Vietnam, in response to the fast growing economy of the country. More importantly, the city of Da Nang has an international airport, seaports, railway and roads. It is also the gateway to the Pacific Ocean on the Trans-Asian route. These facilities promote trade within Vietnam, as well as with its neighboring countries and with the rest of the world," said Mr. Xu Weiguo, General Manager of OOCL Vietnam.

"With the rapid economic growth of Vietnam and Da Nang City in particular, we strongly believe cargo potential will be very encouraging over the coming years. This branch office will enable us to offer enhanced and comprehensive services to our honorable customers through internal integrated systems, dedicated full-functional organization and extensive service network, linking Vietnam to Asia, India Sub-continent, Australia, Europe and North America," said Mr Xu. For more information on our new OVCL office, please visit our <http://www.oocl.com/vietnam/eng/> website for Country Information.